STEP Canada National Webcast

Beyond the Indian Act:

A Primer on Estates, Succession, Tax and Trusts for Indigenous Clients

Wednesday, January 21, 2026 @ 12:00pm EDT

Join us for an engaging webcast exploring how Indigenous, federal, and provincial/territorial laws intersect in wills and estate planning. Gain practical insights into modern treaties and self-government agreements, taxation on-reserve, the Indian Act, and settlement trusts to better serve Indigenous clients and communities.

The Indigenous Peoples of Canada have a unique relationship with Canada and its provinces, which can impact the wills and estates of their members. This important session will discuss:

- A jurisdictional overview of succession/incapacity law addressing modern treaties, self-government agreements, the Indian Act, and provincial/territorial law.
- Taxation on death of on-reserve and off-reserve interests.
- Estate administration under the Indian Act (and the effect of land codes, family homes on reserve, etc., on succession).
- Succession & incapacity planning with property on-and-off reserve.
- The settlement trust (with an emphasis on per capita distributions and individual interests, and impact of death).

This valuable webcast will be broadcast in English, and is offered free of charge for STEP Canada Members and Students.

STEP Starts Here - Getting Involved

In this section, volunteers from across the country will share how they took the first STEP to get involved - and where it has led them.

Alysha Tse, TEP
Richardson Wealth
STEP Vancouver

"I pursued the TEP designation because I wanted to build a career grounded in technical excellence and supported by a community that understands the complexity of modern estate, trust, and multi-disciplinary planning. TEP quickly became the designation I value most. It has shaped the way I approach problems, collaborate with other professionals, and guide families through important and often sensitive decisions. The learning journey was rigorous, and it created a foundation that continues to influence my practice every day.

My involvement with STEP has also opened doors I never anticipated. The relationships I've built with practitioners across Canada and internationally have become a defining part of my professional life. Having the opportunity to represent Canada on a STEP Worldwide special operations project was an honour. Contributing to work that will help guide how other jurisdictions structure their operations offered valuable perspective and was an exceptional learning experience.

My ongoing work with STEP Vancouver has been equally meaningful. Serving on the board has given me a front-row seat to the energy and dedication within our local branch. I've had the chance to help shape programming, strengthen member engagement, support the next generation of advisors, and foster collaboration across the estate-planning community in Vancouver.

I began volunteering to give back to the community that supported my growth, and it remains one of the most rewarding decisions I've made. Engaging with students, emerging practitioners, and experienced leaders reinforces how important it is that we continue investing in one another. For anyone considering getting involved, I would encourage you to take the leap. Even a small commitment can lead to meaningful relationships, new opportunities, and a stronger sense of connection within a community that elevates our entire profession."

Alysha is currently Deputy Chair and Sponsorship Officer for the STEP Vancouver Branch, having previously volunteered as the Branch Secretary, Program Officer, Member-at-Large, and Student Liaison Officer. Alysha has also represented Canada on a STEP Worldwide Council special operations project, contributing her expertise to global initiatives in trust and estate planning.

There are many ways to deepen your involvement with STEP while building your expertise and expanding your network. Attend a technical seminar, connect at a networking event, contribute your knowledge as a speaker, or make an impact by volunteering on a committee.

For more information on how to engage with STEP, reach out to your local Member Services Officer.
